About Fertility Care from Anywhere

During most fertility treatments, it's important to monitor the size of your follicles and track your hormone levels regularly. This requires ongoing ultrasound scans and blood tests. Most clinics will ask you to commute to their offices to do this, but Sama gives you the option to conduct these tests at-home or at your local clinic.

Virtual Monitoring

Sama can send you a portable ultrasound so you can track your own follicles. We'll guide and support you every step of the way.

Remote Monitoring

Sometimes, monitoring with a clinician may be the best option for your care. We establish OB partners near each patient - to ensure your care is convenient.
